| Remarkable outcomes/ keytake-away messages(max. three)it unit i | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>● Enhanced Cyber Awareness: The street play successfully educated the audience on important topics related to cybersecurity, such as online fraud, data privacy, safe internet practices, and the risks of cybercrime. The interactive format made complex cybersecurity concepts accessible to the general public, especially to those less familiar with technology.</li><li>● Public Engagement and Learning: The street play involved the audience through quizzes, live demonstrations, and situational enactments, encouraging active participation and dialogue about safe online practices. Many attendees expressed an increased understanding of how to protect themselves and their families from cyber threats.</li><li>● Targeted Outreach to Vulnerable Groups: The program specifically aimed at groups with limited cyber awareness, such as older adults, children, and rural populations. It addressed their unique challenges, providing practical tips on avoiding scams, phishing, and identity theft.</li></ul> |

|  | The play provided guidance on how to use government-provided cybersecurity resources and helplines in case of a cyber incident. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>● Increased Media and Social Media Attention: The street play garnered media coverage, which helped raise awareness about the importance of cybersecurity on a larger scale. This coverage contributed to the dissemination of cyber safety messages to a broader audience. Videos, images, and messages from the event were shared across social media platforms, spreading the "Cyber Shiksha for Cyber Suraksha" message beyond those who attended the events.</li> <li>● Behavioral Change Indicators: Many attendees reported that they planned to change their online habits, such as using stronger passwords, enabling two-factor authentication, and being more cautious about sharing personal information online. The street play instilled a sense of responsibility among parents, teachers, and local leaders to promote cybersecurity awareness in their communities.</li> <li>● Political and Institutional Support: Local political leaders and policymakers in attendance acknowledged the importance of cybersecurity education and pledged to support future initiatives. The success of the street play prompted discussions about integrating cybersecurity education into school curriculums and community programs to create a more cyber-aware population.</li> </ul> |
