"2nd mass gathering activity at Azadmaidan" Report

Name of activity	Street play
Objectives of the activity (maximum 40 words)	- Promoting Cyber Safety: Street plays can educate the audience about safe online practices, such as protecting personal information, avoiding phishing scams, and using strong passwords1. - Spreading Awareness: By performing street plays, participants can raise awareness about emerging types of cybercrime, including online fraud, identity theft, and cyberbullying. The goal is to inform people about potential risks and preventive measures. - Encouraging Reporting: Street plays can emphasize the importance of reporting cybercrime incidents. Participants can highlight helpline numbers like the National Cybercrime Helpline (1930) and the National Cybercrime Reporting Portal (NCRP). - Creative Expression: Participants can explore their creative instincts by producing engaging street plays that convey essential messages about cyber hygiene and safety.
Organizing department/s	Information Technology and Data Science Quick Heal Cyber Warrior
Date (DD / MM / YYYY)	25/09/2024
Venue	Azad Maidan CSMT
Mode	Offline
Details of Resource person (name, designation, institution)	Quick Heal Cyber Warriors and Club Officers
Key Participants	- All over Maharashtra Aanganvadi teachers - Police and news media are present - Unknown people's on Azad maidan - Quick Heal Cyber Warriors Bandodkar college - Senior Aanganvadi teachers are also present
Remarkable outcomes/ key take-away messages (max. three) it unit i	- Enhanced Cyber Awareness: The street play successfully educated the audience on important topics related to cybersecurity, such as online fraud, data privacy, safe internet practices, and the risks of cybercrime.The interactive format made complex cybersecurity concepts accessible to the general public, especially to those less familiar with technology. - Public Engagement and Learning: The street play involved the audience through quizzes, live demonstrations, and situational enactments, encouraging active participation and dialogue about safe online practices.Many attendees expressed an increased understanding of how to protect themselves and their families from cyber threats. - Targeted Outreach to Vulnerable Groups: The program specifically aimed at groups with limited cyber awareness, such as older adults, children, and rural populations. It addressed their unique challenges, providing practical tips on avoiding scams, phishing, and identity theft.

	The play provided guidance on how to use government-provided cybersecurity resources and helplines in case of a cyber incident. ● Increased Media and Social Media Attention: The street play garnered media coverage, which helped raise awareness about the importance of cybersecurity on a larger scale. This coverage contributed to the dissemination of cyber safety messages to a broader audience. Videos, images, and messages from the event were shared across social media platforms, spreading the "Cyber Shiksha for Cyber Suraksha" message beyond those who attended the eventts. ● Behavioral Change Indicators:Many attendees reported that they planned to change their online habits, such as using stronger passwords, enabling two-factor authentication, and being more cautious about sharing personal information online.The street play instilled a sense of responsibility among parents, teachers, and local leaders to promote cybersecurity awareness in their communities. ● Political and Institutional Support:Local political leaders and policymakers in attendance acknowledged the importance of cybersecurity education and pledged to support future initiatives. The success of the street play prompted discussions about integrating cybersecurity education into school curriculums and community programs to create a more cyber-aware population.

Key Participants	- Mr. Tejas Jadhav - Bandodkar College Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff - Students from various departments - Quick Heal Cyber Warriors Bandodkar college - All college teachers and students
Remarkable outcomes/ key take-away messages (max. three)	- Increased Awareness: One of the primary outcomes is the increase in awareness among citizens, especially students and professionals, about various cyber threats such as phishing, malware, and identity theft. - Community Involvement:Such rallies foster community involvement, making cybersecurity education accessible to people from various walks of life. Local communities, institutions, & organizations can take the message forward, spreading knowledge beyond the event itself. - Skills Enhancement: Participants, especially students and tech enthusiasts, gain practical insights into safeguarding their digital lives. They also become aware of tools and techniques to protect personal data and infrastructures - Youth Empowerment: By focusing on young people, such events prepare the next generation for a more digitally secure future. They are more likely to practice good cybersecurity habits and act as ambassadors for online safety. - Encouragement of Responsible Digital Behavior: The rally promotes ethical and responsible online behavior, such as the importance of secure passwords, safe online transactions, and recognizing suspicious online activity

Activity – Cyber rally	● Cybersecurity March: A physical or virtual rally where participants hold banners, posters, and signs with cyber security messages to raise awareness about online safety. ● Poster Making Competition : Participants create posters with messages related to cybersecurity, promoting awareness visually. ● Quiz Competitions: Cybersecurity-themed quizzes test participants' knowledge about online safety, digital privacy, and cybersecurity practices. ● Interactive Q&A Sessions: Open forums where participants can ask questions about online safety and cybersecurity best practices. ● Online Resources: Sharing links to e-books, videos, and websites that offer cybersecurity education and tools. ● Hashtag Campaigns: Creating a specific hashtag (e.g., #CyberJagrukta) and encouraging participants to post messages, images, or videos promoting cyber awareness on social media platforms. ● Cyber Tips of the Day: Sharing cybersecurity tips on social media throughout the rally to educate a wider audience. ● Collaborative Cyber Walk: A physical walk where participants, in groups, explore online or offline locations, engaging with booths or checkpoints that provide key cybersecurity tips.
